

The Adventures of A Man of Science

By L. T. Meade and Clifford Halifax, M.D.

A LibriVox Recording
Read by J. M. Smallheer

The Adventures of A Man of Science

by L. T. Meade and Clifford Halifax, M. D.

"We have taken down these stories from time to time as our friend. Paul Gilchrist, has related them to us. He is a man whose life study has been science in its most interesting forms—he is also a keen observer of human nature and a noted traveler. He has an unbounded sympathy for his kind, and it has been his lot to be consulted on many occasions by all sorts and conditions of men." - Meade & Halifax

Theses eight short stories were originally published in multiple issues of the Strand Magazine V12 (1896) and V13 (1897). - Summary by J. M. Smallheer

Read by LibriVox J. M. Smallheer

Total running time: 6:35:19

This LibriVox recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover pictures from the text. Cover design is in the public domain.